To Whom It May Concern,

We hereby submit to the machine learning open source software section of the Journal of Machine Learning Research the paper entitled: ADENINE: A DATA EXPLORATION PIPELINE.

The paper describes in detail the ADENINE package version 0.1.3, a Python software licensed under the FreeBSD license.

The package, its documentation and all the references can be found online at the either at project homepage <http://slipguru.unige.it/Software/adenine/> and on GitHub <https://github.com/slipguru/adenine>. The package is also available via Python Package Index at <https://pypi.python.org/pypi/adenine/0.1.3> and it is listed on mloss forum <http://mloss.org/software/>.

The submission of this manuscript is not simultaneous to any other venue and it does not significantly overlap with previous submissions of the authors.

All the co-authors are aware of this submission and they all consent to its review.

Best Regards,

Samuele Fiorini
